Company Overview by CEO

In The Industry for 10+ years

Planning and Construction

Innovative Reconstruction

I have been in the construction industry for over 23 years, and as the CEO of Mint Fresh Trading, I am passionate about the business and the people involved in it.

We live in the most diverse country in the world today. In our industry, only the most disciplined, organized, and competitive individuals will thrive. Critics may label us as ruthless or unthinking, but my view is one of dedication and love for the industry, the people I work with, and the clients I serve.

We provide a service that must reflect excellence while staying within budget and schedule constraints. Our service must be timely, even when time is against us. It must showcase the best of our professional team, consultancy, and design, ensuring structural integrity and aesthetic appeal. Quality craftsmanship is paramount, as our clients expect nothing less than perfection. Safety is also critical, given the dangerous nature of our work environment, and we must adhere to safety specifications throughout the construction period.

Our service supports a wide array of stakeholders, including manufacturers, importers, transporters, property rentals, infrastructure, professionals like engineers and architects, tradespeople such as electricians, plumbers, and carpenters, and, most importantly, our working class. I always remind my team that we work with people, not just bricks.

My staff is like family to me, with some having worked alongside me since 2004. We are the creators of buildings—malls, shopping centers, garages, abattoirs, schools, gyms, warehouses, guest houses, granny flats, parking structures, septic systems, and renovations. We are building the future, creating jobs, and stimulating the economy in ways few other industries can.

I love what I do, and I love the diverse cultures across the 38 different places and communities I have worked with. I challenge you to study the impact I have made in the areas where I have built. In the Word of God, the construction trade is often used metaphorically to convey deeper meanings, which speaks volumes about our profession.

Our Expertise

At Mint Fresh Trading 101 (Pty) Ltd, we specialize in a diverse range of construction areas, leveraging our expertise and experience to deliver exceptional projects. Our core areas of specialization include:

Building Construction
